THEIR RELATIONS WITH THE STRANGE COMPANY REFUSAL TO DISCLOSE DF THE PACTE
AN EXCITED DENIAL OF BRIB! AY.

WASHIN TON, Jan. 8, 1875.
The Committee on Ways and Means met to-day at eleven o'clock and rest med the Pacific Hall in-

Richard C. Parsons, the present member of Congress from the Cleveland (Ohio) district, being ed if he knewsanything about the procurement of the increased subsidy in 1872 answered in the affirmative, and proceeded to read a statement, of which the points are as follows:CONGRESSMAN PARSONS' STATEMENT. About three years ago witness was employed by Mr. Stockwell as his lawyer, to aid him in pre-senting to Congress the application for an increased subsidy. The arrangement was made with Mr. Stockwell individually, he being an old-iriend and client of witness in Cleveland, where both resided. In pursuance of this arrangement vitness devoted much time and labor to the collection of statistics and the preparation of an argument in favor of the measure, proving its value and importance to the commerce and ship-building and other interests of the country. He openly did all he could to urge this measure upon individual members of Congress, never asking any one for his vote, but securing attention to the facts and arguments premented. His connection with this matter was well known in ohio as well as in Washington, and was not in any way concealed. He received for his services and expenses $12,000 from Mr. Stockwell, and ne thinks also $1,500 from Mr. Irwin by drait on New York. He paid no portion of this money to any one else, except $1,500 to his brother-in-law, who rendered him valuable service as his cierk in gathering statistics, &c. Two thousand dollars of this amount was for travelling expenses, printing expenses, &c., and his jee consisted of the remainder, namely, $10,000, witness had no knowledge whatever of any members of Congress receiving money, or being approached corruptly, or that Irwin was expending any money in that or any other way except for household expenses.

Mr. Parsons was examined at considerable length and confirmed by his answers all the foregoing statements. His testimony was given under eath. sented. His connection with this matter was

Q. Did you, in May, 1872, have in your possession a check drawn by Richard B. Irwin for $275,000 *A. I had a cneck for that amount given me by a client in condidential relations, and I am under the impression that this check was drawn by Richard B. Irwin.

Q. Did you receive this check from Richard B. Irwin.

A. That question relates to confidential relations between client and counsel. I would like to tell you if permitted by my clients.

Q. What portion of this amount was for your personal services? A. In the neighborhood of $10,000.

ness then testified that he took this check to Witness then testified that he took this check to the Brooklyn Trust Company by direction of his client and converted it into checks, which by the direction of his client were sent by the Brooklyn Trust Company to another client. After consider-able questioning and repeated protests on the part of witness against invading the privileges of con-didential communications, witness finally stated that the three checks for $50,000 each which were drawn from the proceeds of this $275,000 check, were sent to the Pacific Mail Company in New York. Witness further stated that the remaining $125,000 was, by mistake of the Brooklyn Trust Company, placed to his individual credit on their books, and that he therefore drew out all this sum, except $10,000, by his individual checks and sent them all $10,000, by his individual checks and sent them all at one time and in one direction by order of his at one time and in one direction by order of his action to parties whom his client designated.

Q. Will you give the names of the persons among whom the $115,000 were distributed? A. I cannot without the consent of my vitent.

Q. Was this client who gave you these instructions the same person or being or entity from whom you received the check for $275,000? A. That is a question of law, and, besides, it is going into confidential relations.

A DENIAL OF BRIEBEY.

Q. What instructions were given you as to the disposition of the avails of the $275,000 check?

A. I am not at ignerity to state; I would like to tell you if I could; I have tried to obtain permission and have not got it, and (excitedly) I would be willing to go out of Congress, if need be, to preserve my professional honor and continue, to be able to stand up as a lawyer and look my brother lawyers in the lace; I want to say, however, that although I drew the money on the $50,000 check cashed by Riggs & Co., I did not draw the two checks from lay, Cooke & Co., and I never bribed, or attempted to bribe, any member or officer of the Forty-second Congress.

Mr. Dawes asked a number of questions repeat-

AMUSEMENTS.

PHILHARMONIC REHEARSAL A very small audience attended the first re hearsal of the third concert of the Philharmonic Society for the present season at the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon. The orchestra of 100 performers were present, with Herr Carl Bergmann as conductor. The programme for the next concert is very interesting and well chosen, conconcert is very interesting and well chosen, consisting of the following works:—Haydn's Ninth Sympnony in C minor, one of the 104 symphonies written by this unapproachably prolific writer. It is one of the lew originally intended for grand orchestra. "The Chaconne," of Bach, a well known violin solo, which has been the checal de batatile of our most eminent virtuosi, and which has been magnificantly instrumented by Joachim Raff for the Philinarmonic Society of New York, followed next. Wagner's introduction to the opera of "Iristan and Isolde" was the principal feature of the bill, and the rehearsal closed with a very weak, commonplace symphony by Raff, the sixth of the series in D minor, opus 189. This last work is unworthy of the composer of the "Im Walde" and "Lenore" symphonies. The subjects are so commonplace and uninteresting that no amount of dever instrumentation can recommend hem to the attention of the musical ing that no amount of ciever instrumentation can recommend hem to the attention of the musical public. Raff, we fear, has written himself out, and is now engaged in the macupe business in music. He has abundant cieverness, if not positive taient, and we must regret that in his latest work he has been obliged to fall back upon tawdry subjects, melodies of the commonest kind, and themes only it for the saton. The next rehearsal takes place on Friday next.

ENGLISH OPERA.

Miss Clara Louise Kellogg and her English opera company commence a season of three weeks at the Academy of Music, on Monday, January 25. During the season Balfe's posthumous opera, During the season Balle's posthumous opera,
"The Talisman," founded on Scott's celebrated romance, and produced with great celat last summer in London—with Nilsson and Campanini in the cast—will be brought out for the first time in America. The principal members of the company, leaving the renowned prima donna out, are Mme.
Jennic Van Zandt, Mrs. Zeida Seguin, Miss Annie
Beaumont, Mr. Mass, Mr. Castle, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Carleton, Mr. Peakes and Mr. Seguin. The chorus and orchestra a e picked members of the beat musical societies.

When the Empress Eugénie, as the representative of Napoleon III, and of France, went down to Egypt grand Khédive, in his splendid entertainments given in her honor, revived the marvellous scenes of the "Arabian Nights." Barnum, however, after his royal oriental reception of King Kalakana, has no odds to ask of Ismail Pacha in the way of a variety entertainment, combining the daring deeds of norsemanship of "the brave days of old Rome," the rattling froites of a Donnybrook Fair, the wonders of an American circus and the athletic exercises of an Asiatic carousal. Such, for instance, to a house that could be estimated only by thousands was the variety bill at the Hippodrome last night, including twenty minutes of fun at Donnybrook Fair, horse and Roman charlot races, a stag hint, a race between camels and elephants, a race of twenty-one norses without riders, scenes in Indian hie on the Plains and other amusing and astonishing performances, too nunerous to mention, leaving not the gap of a minute from the beginning to the end of the bill. The new schedule of prices appears to work well and promises a popular rushing to the close of the present season, which is announced to be near at hand, in consequence of needful preparations for the consing summer traviling campaign. The procession of Indians last of the "Arabian Nights." Barnum, however, after announced to be near at man, in consequence of needing preparations for the coming summer trav-sling campaign. The procession of Indians last vening was the crowning feature of the perform-inces and a faithing illustration of such scenes in the far West.

The engagement of Mr. E. L. and Mrs. Davenport at Mrs. Conway's theatre, has been a most nessity one in a double sense-financially, per-

THE PACIFIC MAIL SUBSIDY | hape, may be categorically put first, but in the pleasure afforded to the lovers of the drama, the patrons of the house, the artistic success may tairly take the precedence. In the latter respect there has been no series of dramatic entertainments given in Brooklyn for a long time that has drawn anything like the large audiences that nightly attest by their presence the delight enjoyed by the excellent acting of Mr. and Mrs. Davenport in the pieces selected for their appearance on the Brocklyn stage. "Hamlet," "Othello" and the "Merchaut of Venice" have been successively presented. Thursday night "Othello" was the attraction, with Mr. Davenport in the title rôle and Mrs. Davenport as Emilia. Notwithstanding the incremency of the night the theatre was filled, but last night it was crowded in every part at the presentation of the "Merchaut of Venice." The management has most liberally contributed to aid the star company by mounting the different pieces in a most appropriate and artistic manner, which goes lar with an audience. But it was to the effective rendering of the several cnaracters by Mr. Davenport that the success of the week's entertainment was to be traced. His Shylock hast evening was very fine, especially in the scene where he portrays the fellow mature of the Jew and the Christian, and in which he subsequently beweils the loss of his ducats and of his precious jewels, caring nothing in his wrath for the loss of the truant Jessica, whose spending of Jourscore ducats at a sitting seemed to rend his heart-strings. His acting in the court scene, when baffled of his pound of flesh, of his revenge and his child lost to him, was electrical, and, thoughtaiter each act he had been called before the curtain, a storm of applicate for the evening closed with "The Honey, moon," in which Mr. Davenport as Volante, and Miss Lilian Conway as Zamara. Mrs. Conway was received with the hearty applicated, and changed the mood of the audience from the tragic to the amusing. drawn anything like the large audiences that nightly attest by their presence the delight en-

REV. JEREMIAH A. KINSELLA.

The archdiocese of New York has lost a faithful and venerable priest in the death of the Rev. Jeremiah A. Kinsella, pastor of St. Raymond's church Westchester. The deceased clergyman was in his sixty-third year. He was a native of the diocese of Kildare and Leighlin, in Ireland, and belonged to a family that has furnished more priests to that to a family that has furnished more priests to that diocese and to missions in the United States and elsewhere than any other of this and the past generations in that diocese. Three years ago no visited his native land, accompanied by Fathers Clowry, Larkin and the late Father Breen, of Manhattanville, and he returned greatly improved in health. During the bast year, nowever, his health again salled him, and for several months he wait incapacitated from duty. The funeral will take place from St. Raymond's church at half-past ten o'clock this forenoon.

WHALEMEN.

It looks now as though the fitting out of whaling vessels next spring will be unusually lively. Of the vessels now at this port at least a dozen will be sent to sea, and more will be despatched after their arrival. Vhe Arctic fleet next season will be the smallest sent there since whaling vessels have visited that ocean; but the sperm whale fishery will be prosecuted with vigor.—New Bedford Standard.
